

THE FJH MUSIC COMPANY PRESENTS.....

A Piano Pedagogy Workshop For Your University Piano Students

Join Dr. Helen Marlais as she takes your piano pedagogy students through the Succeeding at the Piano® (SATP) series that introduces students to the essentials of music education: the ear, hands, mind and imagination. From the Prep level up through Grade 5, the core components included in SATP are: a combined reading system, novel ways to enhance rhythm skills, theory, musical creativity and imagination, expressive playing supported by detailed attention to technique, ear training, musicality, and a commitment to and ownership of mindful practice habits.

There is a superb variety of motivational music by multiple FJH music composers (Timothy Brown, Edwin McLean, Kevin Olson, Mary Leaf, Valerie Roth Roubos, Kevin Costley, and Helen Marlais). Classical composers are introduced in a way which engages the students' ears and hearts.

Regardless of whether you already use SATP, or haven't tried it yet, this session will give you the tools and the materials to support your teaching.

I trust that you have received for your piano pedagogy library the new 2nd edition of Succeeding at the Piano® and the All-in-One Approach to Succeeding at the Piano® from The FJH Music Company! As you know, FJH publishes a wide range of supplementary materials in The FJH Pianist's Curriculum® that compliment your teaching. We can get your piano pedagogy library updated right away.

If you are interested in a livestreamed pedagogy class with Dr. Marlais, please contact Dr. Marlais at www.HelenMarlais.com for an upcoming session. Packets of music will be sent to your students free of charge from The FJH Music Company so that they can follow along. I look forward to hearing from you!
